Problem of Recognition of Manchukuo was Discussed Today at the Cabinet Meeting.

Policy is taken to contemplate the International Situation

The problem which was discussed as the most important one at the Cabinet meeting on the 11th was whether newly-established Manchukuo should be recognized or not. Finance Minister TAKAHASHI, Railway Minister TOKONAMI, War Minister ARAKI expressed their own views, but the problem has not been brought to the final decision owing to lack of time. The main points discussed that day are as follows:

The fact is that Manchukuo was established, but we must take it into consideration which course of development it would take hereafter and whether or not it would be the same as the temporary regime as before. Although, an observation of the situation of Manchukuo only, it seems to justify its immediate recognition, but from the standpoint of international relations, we must consider whether or not it will be favorable that only Japan would recognize it hastily. So that it would be wiser for Japan to contemplate the international
